HAVE GOOD CROPS.

Cranberry Men in This Vicinity Report Double the Crop of Last Year.

There is little question but what the cranberry crop in this section will be about twice what it was last year. There have been some drawbacks during the season, such as spring frosts, hailstorms, damage by worms, and other things, but in spite of these facts there is going to be a good crop of berries, and some of the growers state that their crop will be larger than ever before. During an interview with M. O. Potter last week that gentleman stated that he had harvested about two thirds of the crop, so far as he could judge, and that he had in his cranberry house between eight and nine hundred barrels of berries. He expected that when the crop was all in that it would amount to between 1200 and 1400 barrels. He has had about sixty-five pickers at work the greater part of the time and ten rakers. Help has been rather scarce, and it has been somewhat of a problem to get enough competent hands to properly take care of the crop. Mr. Potter picked off of half a section, containing about three quarters of an acre, 205 boxes, or about 71 barrels of berries. Of course this was an exceptional case. His berries are mostly of good size and color.

Gaynor Brothers report that on Thursday they had in about 1500 barrels and that the indications were that they would harvest altogether about 2500 barrels, most of the fruit in prime condition. They have employed about 120 pickers and some 61 rakers the greater part of the time. The price paid for picking has been about 20 cents per bushel.

A. E. Bennett reports that he will harvest about two thousand barrels this year, which is about double what the crop was last season. He reported on Saturday that the greater part of the crop had been secured and that if the weather was at all favorable he would finish the harvest in another week. He also reports that the berries are of excellent quality.

J. J. Kummerich Cranberry Co. report that they will harvest about 600 barrels this year, and have now harvested about three hundred. This crop is somewhat better than last year. They are employing about 15 rakers and have had 25 pickers.

The Charles E. Lester Cranberry Co. report a crop of about 600 barrels and on Saturday had about finished the picking. This crop is somewhere near double what it was last year.

The Jacob Seares Cranberry Co. report that they will have a crop of about 1800 barrels, and on Saturday had picked about 1100 barrels. This crop is about three times what it was last year.

The Elm Lake Cranberry Co. had in about 500 barrels on Saturday and expect a crop of about 800 barrels. This is more than double of what they harvested last year.

W. H. Fitch reports in the neighborhood of 200 barrels, with about half of the crop harvested. This is somewhat better than last year's output.

On the J. E. Arpin Marsh they reported on Saturday that there had been harvested about 1200 barrels and that they expected a crop of 1600 when the season was finished. This is about twenty-five per cent more than last year. Quality of berries reported good.

Briere & Pomaunville have finished harvesting their berries and report a crop of 500 barrels. This is not as large as was expected earlier in the season, but is considerably better than last year.

Andrew Bisag, of Bisag Brothers City Point, was in the city yesterday and today. He reports that his company finished the work of picking on Saturday and that they had harvested between six and seven hundred barrels. He states that the fruit work did some damage to their crop, but to what extent he is not prepared to say. They employed about fifty pickers and twelve rakers the greater part of the season. The crop this year is about 25 per cent better than last year.

The Wisconsin Hardwood Lumbermen's association Tuesday re-elected its former officers for another year as follows: President, E. P. Arpin, Grand Rapids; vice president, B. W. Davis, Phillips; secretary and treasurer, A. E. Heesbe, McMillan.

The entire board of directors was also re-elected as follows: H. C. Humphrey, Appleton; Thomas Wall, Oshkosh; E. F. McMillan, McMillan; George H. Chapman, Stanley; Geo. E. Lusk, Thorpe; E. J. Young, Madison; and Guy Nash, Shangolden. The place of the semi-annual meeting to be held in the spring, will be determined later by the board of directors.

Moulders Wanted.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer" in Play Form.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer" in play form will be a welcome attraction at Grand Opera House Friday, Sept. 28th and the popularity of the famous New England novel of the same name assures crowded attendances. It is a play of New England home life, full of all the feelings and sentiments that are natural to such life. The young man from whom the book and the play have their titles is a wealthy young Boston lawyer who goes into the country for his health. He finds a beautiful woman, a blind girl, who wins his love, and their courtship and devotion is very beautiful. The play is full of unique and interesting characters. The scenic equipment is a most elaborate one, all built especially for this production, which competent critics have predicted will easily rival the success of any New England play ever presented.

Dolph DeMarais Killed.

Word was received here on Monday of the death of Dolph D. DeMarais, who was killed in a wreck at New Prague, Minn., that day.

Mr. DeMarais, in company with a number of other traveling men, was in the smoker of a passenger train on the Minneapolis and St. Louis road, when the train was run into by a switch engine, and five of the men in the smoker were killed. None of the passengers in the other coaches were injured, but all of those in the smoker and baggage car were hurt, the two cars being telescoped.

Mr. DeMarais formerly lived in this city and is remembered by all of the old residents, who speak very highly of him. He left here about twenty years ago and has since lived at Minneapolis, where he was a traveling salesman for Wyman, Partridge and Co.

New Warehouse Progressing.

J. M. Nash has his new warehouse near the Northwestern depot up and inclosed and as the work is being hurried forward as rapidly as possible it will probably be ready for occupancy before cold weather comes.

The old warehouse back of the store has been torn down and it is the intention to erect a brick structure there next season. This, if done, will make a great improvement in the appearance of things in that locality. The old warehouse was formerly a store and is one of the old landmarks on the west side, and has been in existence as long as some of our old residents can remember.

Dramatic Reader.

Sarah Mildred Wittmer, dramatic reader and impersonator, will be at the G. A. R. Hall on Friday evening, Sept. 28. Admission 25 cents. Miss Wittmer will present Wilton Barrett's powerful drama, "The Sign of the Cross." The public is given a cordial invitation to attend. It will be under the auspices of the Grand Army post.

Will Unveil Monument.

Next Sunday the members of the local lodge of Woodmen of the World expect to unveil the monument which the order has erected over the grave of the late Nels Pamineau. There will be the usual services customary on such occasions.

Elected Secretary.

Rev. C. W. Dean, pastor of the Church of Christ in this city, was elected secretary for the Wisconsin Christian Missionary Association last week at the convention held at Ladysmith.

Chas. Doesburg, Mike Mason, Henry Waser and Gerald Fritzinger took advantage of the excursion rates to Chicago last Saturday and went down and witnessed the ball game between New York and Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Metcalfe and daughter spent Sunday at Green Bay.

INTERURBAN ROAD.

Some of Our Citizens Think One Might be Built Here With Small Outlay.

The matter of a suburban railway has again suggested itself to some of our citizens, and it is possible that the matter may receive some attention. One of the enthusiasts on the subject is John L. Nash, who has put some thought on the matter for a time past, and is of the opinion that it would be easy to finance a system of this sort right here among our home people and that it would be self supporting from the very start.

Mr. Nash's idea is to establish a railway system from Union to Nekoma, with enough branches about the city of Grand Rapids to accommodate the local trade, and to operate the system with motors propelled by gasoline. His idea in doing this is to have a system that will not only be cheap to install, but one after it is installed, it is his opinion that such a road could be built and equipped for the sum of $4000 a mile, or a total outlay of $40,000.

There is no question that the road along the river, both north and south of the city are ideal places on which to build residences, and that if there were some means by which people could get to and from the city that a great many of these places would soon be bought up and utilized for residence purposes.

There are also times when men are needed at one of the paper mills either up or down the river, and when such times come, the men are invariably secured from this city, so that there is always a demand for some means of conveyance to and from the mills. It is certainly a matter that might be looked into with benefit to this city, and is one which should be investigated thoroughly before it is given up.

A Remarkable Autumn.

The present year is evidently bent on establishing a record in the matter of length, as at the present time there has been no frost in this vicinity, and vegetation is growing with all the luxuriance of late summer. Usually we have light frosts here the latter part of August or during the fore part of September and generally by this time there have been several nights when mercury has gone several degrees below the freezing point, enough to turn the leaves to an autumn hue. If we could depend upon an autumn like this every year there would be much accomplished in the agricultural line that is usually impossible.

Votes 58 Cents a Head.

Several counties in the state have been figuring on the proposition of the individuals in the county, some of them proving conclusively that it will average at least $2.00 for every vote cast. It is not an easy matter to form any idea of the weight or how much of an increase it will mean in the taxation for the year. As the tax on the basis of the number of votes cast in the county is as follows:

Printing.....	$200.00
Ballots.....	215.00
Incidentals.....	25.00
Clarks, inspectors, etc.....	142.00
Total.....	602.00
Canvassing board.....	50.00
Grand total.....	$652.00

Total number of votes cast in the county 3,300. This averages a fraction over $.58 for every vote cast, and it is up to the people to say whether the privilege of expressing their choice is an expensive luxury, or is cheap at the price they have paid.—Wausau Daily Record.

International Live Stock Exposition, Dec. 1 to 8, 1906.

Now that some of our state fairs have been held, a reasonable idea of what horse, cattle and stock are doing in the world is gained. It is a fact that some of the breeders are desirous of making their first entrance into the show yard through their own state fair. However, there are enough outstanding animals at each of the fairs to anticipate a grand exhibit at the round-up show of the year of horses, cattle, sheep and swine, and the information as to the surprises in store in the carload and individual fat classes leads the management to expect the banner show this year. The rivalry among the breeders and feeders of the various states to carry off the honors for their states in the Rosenbaum State College specialties, portends some unusual displays. If you are not posted on the move of events created by the show management to the show management for free information. Director James W. Wilson, of the South Dakota Agricultural College at Brookings, in speaking of the International, said:

"The International Exposition, held annually in Chicago, is looked upon by stockmen throughout the West as being 'The event of the season.' We have our state fairs that are good along their lines, and very instructive. These fairs usually have an exhibit of stock governed largely by the quality of stock in the state in which they are held. While the International Exposition includes usually the prize winners at the different state fairs in all sections of the country. The educational value of this big show cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. Being in the center of the great live stock producing area and having better and larger buildings than ever before, the attendance at this show in December 1 to 8, this year, should be greater than ever. It has a tendency to bring together the cream of the live stock kingdom, and I am glad to say in many respects it is a better show of stock than was put forth at the Royal Show in England this year."

Two Years of Medical Course.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 22.—Beginning with the present year students in the pre-medical course at the University of Wisconsin will be able to do over half of the work of the first two years of the curriculum of the best medical schools of the country. This is made possible by the recent establishment of the department of physiology, of which Dr. Joseph Erlanger, is to be recent as associate-professor of physiology at John Hopkins medical school, is to be the head. New courses in physiological chemistry have also been added, and will be in charge of Dr. D. C. Bradley, who has been directing the work in physiological chemistry at the Yale medical school. It is planned in the near future to establish a department of pharmacology and pathology, so that the entire first two years of the medical curriculum may be taken at the University of Wisconsin. A graduate of the university can then go to any of the leading medical schools and there complete in two years the clinical portion of the medical study necessary for the degree of doctor of medicine.

The development of these courses preparatory to the study of clinical medicine is a result of the demand for thorough training in science as preparation for medical students. Modern scientific medicine consists of the application of physics, chemistry, and the biological sciences to the study of the prevention and cure of disease. The remarkable advance made during the last half century in medicine and surgery has been due very largely to the discoveries by chemists and physicists. The modern science of bacteriology, for example, which has changed so completely the conception of disease and enlarged the powers of controlling it, owes much of its most important development to the chemist Pasteur. The Roentgen ray and radium, which have proved of great value in the diagnosis and treatment of disease, were the discoveries of physicists. Roentgen and chemist Boquerel and the Curies. Biological investigators made possible the discovery of the part played by insects in the transmission of disease, and which in turn has made possible the control of malaria and yellow fever. The application of chemistry to the study of disease bids fair to make the medicine of the next fifty years advance even faster than it has during the last half century. A thorough laboratory training in the basic sciences of physics, chemistry, and biology is therefore recognized as essential for those who desire to fit themselves properly to understand modern medicine, and keep up with its advance.

Appointment of Chemists at Sugar Factories.

According to the contract which the beet sugar companies now doing business in the State have made with their respective patrons, the chemists at the factories who are to analyze the beets furnished by the farmers are to be appointed by the Director of the Experiment Station. For the coming campaign, the following parties have been appointed by Acting Director Babcock to the position of beet chemists in the Wisconsin sugar factories, viz:—

For Wisconsin Sugar Company at Manitowish Falls factory—Mr. M. T. C. Eweeden, of Oconomowoc, Wis.

For Rock County Sugar Company at Janesville factory—Mr. A. A. Tower, of Lansing, Mich.

For Chippewa Sugar Company at Chippewa Falls factory—Mr. Paul Skellon, of Urbana, Ill.

For United States Sugar Company at Madison factory—Mr. H. M. Porter, Madison, Wis.

The work of these chemists will be under the direct supervision of the Chemical Department of the Experiment Station, and the patrons of these sugar factories may, therefore, feel assured that the testing of their beets will be done in a careful, conscientious manner, and that correct tests will be reported to the management of the various factories.

Cheap Alcohol.

A late dispatch from Washington states that, unless Rockefeller buys up the distilleries and thus controls the manufacture and output, the department of agriculture will formulate a plan by which the farmer may cheaply make his own denatured alcohol for light and fuel. D. Galloway, chief of the bureau of plant industry, under direction of Secretary Wilson, has sent agents to Europe to study the big potato that is grown in many sections of the continent and arrange for securing seed and transplanting it in this country.

This potato has small value for edible purposes, but is several times as large as the one commonly seen in this country. From an acre of ground it is claimed enough of them can be produced to make 600 gallons of alcohol, which means heat, light and power for a farm household for a year.

This potato is to be developed and acclimated for the different sections of the United States as soon as possible. After the alcohol is taken from it the residue is still useful for feeding live stock. Secretary Wilson and Dr. Galloway anticipate that in a few years it will constitute one of the most useful and valuable of crops.

Farmers Being Victimized.

Farmers living on the rural free delivery routes should be careful not to become victims of two frauds who have been operating along rural routes in this state. These two men reaped a harvest from the patrons of routes No. 3 and 5 out of Sheboygan. The postal authorities recently issued an order requiring all rural mail boxes to be numbered in proper rotation and the full name of the owner placed thereon. This order put the idea of fraud into the heads of the two fakirs.

The men go along the route, telling the farmers that they are agents of the United States government, and that the United States government sent to put the number and name on the mail box. In many instances the owners readily agreed and paid the frauds 25 cents and upward. However, a few were suspicious and when the agents put the wrong number on some boxes and showed that they did not know the correct number, the matter was reported to the Sheboygan postal authorities. A strict watch is now being kept in the hope of catching the frauds and delivering them over to punishment.

Warehouse at Nekeosa.
A joint meeting of representatives of the Saratoga, Port Edwards and Armenia local unions of the American Society of Equity has been called to be held at the office of Fred Brown & Co. on Monday, September 24, for the purpose of taking action on the proposition of securing a warehouse in Nekeosa.

A committee of fifteen, five members from each of the three unions who are interested in the warehouse, have charge of the business, constituting a standing committee for transacting the business jointly for the three local unions of the towns mentioned for whom Nekeosa is the most convenient shipping point. At the meeting of the committee last week a representative of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad company was present and stated that the company would furnish suitable ground for the erection of a warehouse and the unions may decide to build one or buy one of the warehouses that are already here if terms can be agreed upon.—Nekeosa Times.

The Popular Lecture and Entertainment Course.

The third number in the course is "The Era Bartlett Macey Company" Dec. 7. This is a strong company. It consists of four fine artists Miss Macey, entertainer, H. J. Williams, Harpist, Isabel Holbrook Williams, soprano and Hugo Higerstedt, violinist. Miss Macey has established for herself a national reputation by the superiority of her work. And "The Lyonnais," of Chicago says the platform cannot boast of a better harpist than H. J. Williams. Remember the date.

International Live Stock Exposition, Dec. 1 to 8, 1906.

Now that some of our state fairs have been held, a reasonable idea of what herds, flocks and studs are contending for the year's honors can be formed, although it is natural that some of the breeders are desirous of making their last entrance into the year's show yards through their own state fair. However, there are enough outstanding animals at each of the fairs to anticipate a grand exhibit at the round-up show of the year of horses, cattle, sheep and swine, and the information as to the surprises in store in the current and universal fat classes leads the management to expect the banner show this year. The rivalry among the breeders and feeders of the various states to carry off the honors for their states in the Rosebush State College steers, portable some unusual displays. If you are not posted on the move of events created by those specialists write to the show management for free information. Director James W. Wilson, of the South Dakota Agricultural College at Brookings, in speaking of the International, said:

"The International Exposition, held annually in Chicago, is looked upon by stockmen throughout the West as being the event of the season. We have our state fairs that are good along their lines, and very instructive. These fairs usually have an exhibit of stock governed largely by the quality of stock in the state in which they are held. While the International Exposition includes usually the prize winners at the different state fairs in all sections of the country. The educational value of this big show cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. Being in the center of the great live stock producing zone and having better and larger buildings than ever before, the attendance at this show in December 1 to 8, this year, should be greater than ever. It has a tendency to bring together the cream of the live stock kingdom, and I am glad to say that in many respects it is a better show of stock than was put forth at the Royal Show in England this year."

A little child of Michael Strauss of Vermont, was recently burned on a burn on the hand, and as cold applications only increased the inflammation, Mr. Strauss came to Mr. James N. CURED HAY FEVER AND SUMMER COLIC
A. J. Nussbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold and distressing hay fever, which interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines, which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Daily Drug & Jewelry Co.

Two Years of Medical Course.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 22.—Beginning with the present year students in the pre-medical course at the University of Wisconsin will be able to do over half of the work of the first two years of the curriculum of the best medical schools of the country. This is made possible by the recent establishment of the department of physiology, of which Dr. Joseph E. Hager, is to be recent associate professor of physiology at John Hopkins medical school, it is to be the head. New courses in physiological chemistry have also been added, and will be in charge of Dr. D. C. Bradley, who has been directing the work in physiological chemistry at the Yale medical school. It is planned in the near future to establish a department of pharmacology and pathology, so that the entire curriculum may be taken at the University of Wisconsin. A graduate of the university can then go to any of the leading medical schools and complete in two years the clinical portion of the medical study necessary for the degree of doctor of medicine.

The development of these courses preparatory to the study of clinical medicine is a result of the demand for thorough training in science as preparation for medical students. Modern scientific medicine consists of the application of physics, chemistry, and the biological sciences to the study of the prevention and cure of disease. The remarkable advance made during the last half century in medicine and surgery has been due very largely to the discoveries by chemists and physicists. The modern science of bacteriology, for example, which has changed so completely the conception of disease and enlarged the powers of controlling it, owes its origin to the most important development to the chemist Pasteur. The Roentgen ray and radium, which have proved of great value in the diagnosis and treatment of disease, were the discoveries of physicist Curie and chemist Becquerel and the Roentgen. Biological investigators made possible the discovery of the part played by insects in the transmission of disease, and which in turn has made possible the control of malaria and yellow fever. The application of chemistry to the study of disease has led to the discovery of the most effective drugs and the development of the different sections of the United States as soon as possible. After the alcohol is taken from it the residue is still useful for feeding live stock. Secretary Wilson and Dr. Galloway anticipate that in a few years it will constitute one of the most useful and valuable of crops.

Appointment of Chemists at Sugar Factories.
According to the contract which the best sugar companies now doing business in the State have made with their respective patrons, the chemists at the factories who are to analyze the beets furnished by the farmers are to be appointed by the Director of the Experiment Station. For the coming campaign, the following parties have been appointed by Acting Director Babcock to the position of beet chemists in the Wisconsin sugar factories, viz:—
For Wisconsin Sugar Company at Menomonie Falls factory—Mr. M. T. Ewenden, of Oconomowoc, Wis.
For Rock County Sugar Company at Janesville factory—Mr. A. A. Towner, of Lansing, Mich.
For Chippewa Sugar Company at Chippewa Falls factory—Mr. Paul Skelton, of Urbana, Ill.
For United States Sugar Company at Madison factory—Mr. H. M. Potter, Madison, Wis.

The work of these chemists will be under the direct supervision of the Chemical Department of the Experiment Station, and the patrons of these sugar factories may, therefore, feel assured that the testing of their beets will be done in a careful, conscientious manner, and that correct tests will be reported to the management of the various factories.

Cheap Alcohol.

A late dispatch from Washington states that, unless Rockefeller buys up the distilleries and thus controls the manufacturer and output, the department of agriculture will formulate a plan by which the farmer may cheaply make his own denatured alcohol for light and fuel. D. Galloway, chief of the bureau of plant industry, under direction of Secretary Wilson, has sent agents to Europe to study the big potato that is grown in many sections of the continent and arrange for securing seed and transplanting it in this country.

This potato has small value for edible purposes, but is several times as large as the one commonly seen in this country. From an acre of ground it is claimed enough of them can be produced to make 600 gallons of alcohol, which means heat, light and power for a farm household for a year.

This potato is to be developed and acclimated for the different sections of the United States as soon as possible. After the alcohol is taken from it the residue is still useful for feeding live stock. Secretary Wilson and Dr. Galloway anticipate that in a few years it will constitute one of the most useful and valuable of crops.

Farmers Being Victimized.

Farmers living on the rural free delivery routes should be careful not to become victims of two frauds who have been operating along rural routes in this state. These two men reaped a harvest from the patrons of routes No. 3 and 5 out of Sheboygan. The postal authorities recently issued an order requiring all rural mail boxes to be numbered in proper rotation and the full name of the owner placed thereon. This order put the idea of fraud into the heads of the two fakirs.

The men go along the route, telling the farmers that they are agents of the United States government, sent to put the number and name on the mail box. In many instances the owners readily agreed and paid the frauds 25 cents and upward. However, a few were suspicious and when the agents put the wrong number on some boxes and showed that they did not know the correct number, the matter was reported to the Sheboygan postal authorities. A strict watch is now being kept in the hope of catching the frauds and delivering them over to punishment.

Warehouse at Nekosia.

A joint meeting of representatives of the Saratoga, Port Edwards and Ardena local unions of the American Society of Equity has been called to be held at the office of Fred Brown & Co. on Monday, September 24, for the purpose of taking action on the proposition of securing a warehouse in Nekosia.

A committee of fifteen, five members from each of the three unions who are interested in the warehouse, have charge of the business, conducting a standing committee for transacting the business jointly for the three local unions of the towns mentioned for whom Nekosia is the most convenient shipping point. At the meeting of the committee last week a representative of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad company was present and stated that the company would furnish suitable ground for the erection of a warehouse and the unions may decide to build one or buy one of the warehouses that are already here if terms can be agreed upon.—Nekosia Times.

The Popular Lecture and Entertainment Course

The third number in the course is "The Eva Bartlett Mace Company" Dec. 7. This is a strong company. It consists of four fine artists Miss Mace, entertainer, H. J. Williams, Harpist, Isabel Holbrook Williams, soprano and Hugo Hagerstedt, violinist. Miss Mace has established for herself a national reputation by the superiority of her work. And "The Lyceum," of Chicago says the platform cannot boast of a better harpist than H. J. Williams. Remember the date.

MINING for PROFIT

When you are sick you consult the Doctor—the professional man. Why? Because he specializes you that suffer said Doctor to know it well. So with all her specialties.

I am a mining specialist in mining engineering, and have devoted many years of my career to the study and examining America's great mineral prospects for investors, as well as in several of the foreign to me. I am now the owner, and I consider it the most wonderful gold mine ever opened. Its waters are the most potent and effective for the cure of all skin diseases, including itching humors, and a more efficacious remedy than Chloroform, Nevada, does not exist.

There are many large lakes, and the water is of the purest quality. The climate is the most healthy in the world. The people are interested in making two for one out of their money. I charge but what will pay for the benefit. In this bank I can make the profit in a day.
